What is Geering Up?

UBC Geering Up Engineering Outreach is a non-profit organization dedicated to engaging the children and youth of British Columbia in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) through fun, innovative, and hands-on experiments and projects. Systemic barriers prevent many people from pursuing careers in STEM, so Geering Up strives to reach all children and youth, regardless of gender, ethnicity, culture, or socio-economic status. Over the past 29 years, we have reached youth through events, summer camps, in-school workshops, community outreach trips, clubs, and more. Find more information about our programs here.

What skills are we looking for?

- Experience working with Geering Up or another STEM outreach program is a strong asset
- Experience teaching science and engineering to youth is an asset
- Lived experience as (or experience working with) underprivileged and Indigenous youth is an asset
- Strong problem-solving and conflict resolution skills
- Proven leadership skills and exceptional teamwork abilities
- Special consideration given to those with formal training in special education and/or disability theory, land-based learning experience, and those who have worked in a summer camp environment in the past
- A driver's licence is an asset
- All Geering Up staff must have a Criminal Record Check on file before they may work with children
